

CROWDED PARKS, WISTFUL GOLFERS WELCOME SPRING

Easter Parade Rehearsal
Tramps Boul Mich.

And now, if it please the court of the people, who have hereby presented a brief to said court, subscribed and sworn to, in support of the contention of Henry J. Ford, weather forecaster, that spring is here.

Said people present for the respectful consideration of the court, the enumerated reasons why they are of the firm conviction that the blinding white of winter has been thrown off, and the season of flowers and bird notes once more has begun.

The surest sign of the coming of spring manifested itself by the rehearsal for the Easter parade, two weeks hence, which took place along Michigan boulevard. Shop windows are the greatest business yet noted this year.

Bears and Birds on Job.
Second, was the appearance yesterday, their first since last December, of the black bears in the Lincoln park zoo. According to Alfred T. Parker, director of the zoo, this fact combined with the great disturbance in the bird house, is proof that winter has gone.

Boulevards of the city's park systems were crowded with autos and along the lake front benches were crowded with couples. In Lincoln park hunched figures, minus bags or clubs, eyed with regret the still unopened golf course.

Over at Washington playground, Grand avenue and Noble street, a ball game was in progress.

Three Ball Games Here!
In Washington park the conservatory was crowded with visitors, while the park commons three ball games were under way.

Numerous telephone calls to THE TRIBUNE announced the appearance of more robins in the suburbs meadow lands were reported to have been seen for four days.

The temperature remained slightly above 50 degrees throughout the day.

COOLIDGES' TOUR OF SORROW ENDS AT WHITE HOUSE

President to Care for His Father's Housekeeper.

Washington, D. C., March 21.—(Special.)—President and Mrs. Coolidge returned to Washington this morning. The special train which had carried them to Vermont, where Col. John Coolidge, father of the President, was buried yesterday, reached the capital shortly after 7 o'clock.

The train was run on a slow schedule so that the President and Mrs. Coolidge had their first night's good sleep since they started on their sad mission to the Coolidge homestead last Thursday afternoon. Both looked refreshed when they alighted at Union station.

Most of today was spent within doors. Late in the afternoon, however, the President, accompanied by secret service men, took a long walk.

President Thanks Physician.
Before leaving Plymouth President Coolidge thanked Dr. Cram, who had attended his father in his illness, and the others who made his last days comfortable, including the nurse, Mrs. Mae Johnson, and the housekeeper, Miss Aurora Pierce.

The Coolidge homestead may be kept open until Miss Pierce makes plans for her future. She has been part of the family for nearly twenty-five years and has no relatives living in Vermont. She is now alone and it is expected that President Coolidge will make some provision for her future.

Miss Pierce Devoted Servant.
Since the death of the second Mrs. Coolidge, as for nearly a decade before her death, the colonel's household had been under the spotless supervision of that paragon of housekeepers. Her horror of dust, her genius as cook, her economy and management were a part of the lore of Plymouth. She has seldom left the house even to cross the road to the store in the last five years. Perhaps she has not been out of Plymouth in a dozen years.

PASTOR IN DISGUISE FINDS OUT FIRST HAND THAT DRY LAW IS FARCE

New York, March 21.—(AP)—Wearing various disguises, the Rev. Dr. James E. H. Smith, general secretary of the Church Temperance society, obtained first hand knowledge of prohibition by mingling with bootleggers, and members of the underworld in a dozen cities, he said today.

From the pulpit of St. Luke's Episcopal church Dr. Smith said his investigation convinced him that prohibition had failed.

He also reiterated his recent statement that a majority of the members of the Church Temperance society favored prohibition modification. His first statement to this effect drew denials from many members of the society and from leading Episcopal clergymen, who said the society had been virtually extinct since prohibition began.

"In Rochester there are 100 more speakeasies than there were saloons in the old days," Dr. Smith declared. Describing his experiences in one city, he said that within an area where there used to be three bars, seven blind tigers were known.

"I found," he said, "the same appalling conditions in Atlanta, Ga., as in Chicago."

FORMER WOMAN DRY AGENT HERE TRIES SUICIDE

Dayley Simpson, woman prohibition agent whose investigations in Chicago two years ago resulted in the conviction of several bootleggers, attempted to commit suicide by shooting herself yesterday at El Paso, Tex., following her arrest on a charge of possessing narcotics.

Miss Simpson was taken into custody after she is said to have received through the mails a package containing drugs. A note, written to Bert Sinkus of San Francisco, where Miss Simpson campaigned against bootleggers, stated that she was crushed by the shame of her arrest and did not care to live longer. She was taken to a hospital, where little hope was held for her recovery.

Miss Simpson was shot mysteriously in San Francisco nearly three years ago, but refused to explain the reason to any one except E. C. Yellowley, prohibition chief there, who has since been transferred to Chicago.

(Copyright, 1926, By the New York Times.)

LONDON, March 21.—Further experiments on trans-Atlantic wireless telephony was carried out today in conversations between British postoffice engineers in their private houses and American telephone officials in their New York homes.

"We are talking now between houses in London and New York every Sunday," said an official of the general postoffice. "Sunday gives us the best opportunity for tests. Our experiments here are in touch with American experimenters throughout the day and at intervals calls are put on private telephones of officials in each city to give ordinary service conditions."

8 NATIONS BUY WAR SUPPLIES, LONDON HEARS

Greece Orders 200,000
Rifles in Italy.

LONDON, March 21.—[U. N.]—Alleged secret negotiations for the purchase of arms and munitions by eight European countries were exposed today by the Weekly Dispatch of London.

Greece, Russia, Jugo-Slavia, Finland, Lithuania, Poland, Roumania, and Turkey are the nations accused of extensive munition buying. In addition to its charges regarding the purchase of arms and munitions, the dispatch claims exclusive information on details of extraordinary arrangements by several European nations for purchase of plants for making arms and munitions.

Greece Buys 200,000 Rifles.

Greece has ordered 200,000 rifles from an Italian factory. Russia is buying huge quantities of rifles, which she is reshipping to China and Persia, according to the report in the Dispatch. The publication also declares Jugo-Slavia is seeking 400,000 rifles and Finland, Poland, and Roumania are making efforts to obtain rifles and machine guns.

Orders from China and Turkey have flooded German armament firms, the report concludes.

Builds 80 Planes for Turkey.

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, March 21.—[U. N.]—The Swedish works of the German Junker Airplane company is building a fleet of eighty fighting planes for Turkey. It is also building for an undesignated South American country a new giant airplane described as the most formidable weapon of the air ever invented. The plane will be armed with numerous machine guns and will be fitted with an armor plated tower which will enable its crew to fire in all directions.

STEEL CORPORATION'S ANNUAL REPORT SHOWS COUNTRY PROSPEROUS

New York, March 21.—[Special.]—

To what extent prosperity favored the United States last year is shown in the annual report of the United States Steel corporation, the accepted barometer of business conditions in this country, which was made public last night.

Sales of the corporation during 1925 totaled $1,406,505,195, compared with $1,262,711,469 in 1924, a gain of $143,793,736. Net earnings amounted to $109,451,789; equal to about $12.84 a share on the common stock, as against $104,221,974 in 1924, a gain of $5,229,815.

The revised annual report of the Bethlehem Steel corporation, another important factor in the steel trade, states that the year was the most remarkable in the history of the steel industry in the United States. The period was the best the company experienced in several years, total business transacted coming to $273,025,320, compared with $243,904,346, a gain of $29,121,074. A new high record in the production of steel ingots was reached by the industry during 1925, the report adds, the total being approximately 46,187,000 tons, exceeding the previous high of 1917 by about 568,000 tons.

work at Geneva of Sir Austen Chamberlain, foreign secretary, head the list of governmental problems scheduled.

Discussion by the house of commons of the royal coal commission's report and of the electricity bill, both of which have in them possibilities of injury to the Baldwin cabinet, also figure in the plans for the week.

Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin and Chamberlain will have a private meeting tomorrow at which the inside story of events at the league of nations session will be heard for the first time by the premier. Debate on the league meeting will be held in the house of commons on Tuesday.

Will Discuss Coal Subsidy.

The government's most perplexing question, brought about by the coal commission's report, will be taken up by the commons on Wednesday.

Maintenance of the coal industry in England has been possible for many months only through the use of a government subsidy. The commission has recommended that this subsidy be discontinued and the government admittedly is puzzled over means by which a strike of huge proportions can be prevented if the report against the subsidy is accepted. It is believed possible that the cabinet will assist the coal industry by a temporary loan instead of continuance of the subsidy.

Criticism of the electricity bill, which proposes consolidation of small stations and the erection of numerous super power stations, is also becoming more marked.

Sees League Almost Destroyed.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 21.—David Lloyd George, former premier, speaking at York yesterday, accused the British government of having almost destroyed the league of nations.

"They leave things until they are on the brink of disaster," he said. "They asked for a free hand at Geneva, which meant that they had the ghost of an idea of what they were going to do."

League Hopes to Satisfy U. S.

GENEVA, March 21.—[U. N.]—Satisfaction was voiced in league of nations circles today over dispatches from Washington that the state department seems convinced the league does not wish to inject itself into the world court problem, but merely point out a possible channel of settlement by the members of the court acting in concert.

A frank discussion of the American reservations, it is believed, may lead to some agreement by the signatories without involving the question of modifying the United States senate's reservations. Officials reiterated today that the league organism ceases to act once the conference invitations have been sent out.

Indications are that efforts will be made by some to prevent public sessions of the forthcoming meetings of the disarmament commission which United States delegates will attend. The sentiment here, however, appears overwhelmingly in favor of complete publicity, and it is even remarked that President Coolidge can render a service to the cause of disarmament by instructing the American delegation to insist on publicity.

To Whom Do You Give Business Confidences?

A leading manufacturer in a highly competitive industry employed four advertising agencies in eight years. Four different plans were tried. Four groups thus had access to the trade secrets of an important business.

This case emphasizes the significance of selecting an advertising agency organization which is to be the recipient of important business confidences; then, what to expect of that organization after the alliance is made.

Any independent appraisal of our unusual record of long-time relationship with an impressive list of clients reveals the superior personnel of this organization. Performance, ability to counsel, ability to render service, business judgment and discretion in guarding business confidences are points on which to base your conclusions about us. Our free book, "Four Square Advertising," is something by which to estimate our capabilities. We welcome inquiry.

GIRL, DESERTED, KILLS SELF ON WEDDING EVE

Chicago Model Ends Life
as Lover Leaves.

Deserted by the man she believed she was to marry, Lucille Masbruck, 25 year old model in a Chicago dress shop, committed suicide Saturday in hotel at Grand Rapids, Mich.

Miss Masbruck, who had lived at the Southmoor hotel for the last eight months, left Friday for Grand Rapids. She had told her friends of her approaching wedding and seemed very happy over it.

At Grand Rapids, on Friday evening, she met Erwin S. Thal, the bridegroom-to-be. With him she went to the Grand Rapids hotel, where they registered as man and wife.

Girl Is Found Dying.
In the morning Thal checked out, paying the bill and announcing that his wife would leave later. Shortly afterward a chambermaid, hearing groans in the room they had occupied jointly, looked in.

In the midst of her wedding finery the girl was dying. She had swallowed poison, she murmured, because Thal declined to go through with the marriage and had told her he would not be back. She died in a few minutes.

Investigators discovered a series of notes from Miss Masbruck's friends, all congratulating her on her marriage and wishing her happiness.

At the Southmoor hotel it was said she had been employed by a dressmaking shop on Cottage Grove avenue.

Parents Are Notified.
The mother and father of the girl, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Masbruck of Platteville, Wis., were notified of her death. They had never met Thal, but had been led by their daughter's letters to believe that the wedding was to be held yesterday. They could not understand what caused the trouble, they said.

Clad in the gown in which she intended to be married, the body of the girl was taken to Platteville for burial.

Fear French Adventurer Is Lost on Pacific Ocean

PARIS, March 21.—(AP)—Parisian sportsmen are considerably alarmed over the safety of Albin J. Gerbaud, noted French tennis player and daring yachtsman, who is sailing alone around the world in a small yawl, and is long overdue at Tahiti, the largest of the Society island group in the Pacific. He left the island of Galapagos more than two months ago. Gerbaud first attracted yachting attention in 1923 when he sailed alone across the Atlantic in a small, poorly equipped sloop.

EXILE

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

BARCELONA, March 20.—Banishment was pronounced today on nine leading lawyers, who comprised the governing committee of the Barcelona bar. They had refused to cooperate with appointees from Madrid, who were ordered to keep the Catalan lawyers, numbering many known separatists, within bounds. They were sent to Saragossa, Huesca, and other towns at least 100 miles from Barcelona. They thus face ruin, as the exile means the loss of their entire practice. The Spanish government charges the lawyers with insisting on using the Catalan language which is forbidden. Catalonia, which is the most progressive region of Spain, always has been an obstreperous claimant to independence of the Madrid throne.

DAVIS DECLINES OFFICE TO REMAIN IN U. S. CABINET

Sharon, Pa., March 21.—(AP)—James J. Davis, secretary of the United States department of labor, has declined to enter the race for the Republican nomination for governor.

He made known his decision in a letter tonight to Frank Gilbert, mayor of Sharon, where he began life as an immigrant boy of eight from Wales, and gave as his reason that President Coolidge had expressed a wish that he remain in the cabinet.

"I was early taught in school, he said, 'of sticking to the job and respecting one's chief. The President has expressed to me his sincere gratification with my services, and his wish that I remain with him in his cabinet. One can receive no greater recognition.'"

Paroled Convict Wanted as Robber Caught in Indiana

7 MURDERS LAID AT DOOR OF GANG CAPTURED IN N. Y.

New York, March 21.—(Special.)—

While the number of murders laid at the door of his gang within the last 15 months increased to seven, it became apparent today that Richard

Reese Whittemore, 28, escaped convict, must either hang in Maryland for killing a guard when he escaped from the Maryland penitentiary a year ago February or go to the electric chair in New York for killing two guards in a $93,000 armored car holdup in Buffalo last October.

Whittemore and his companions deny the Buffalo murders.

YOUR IDEAL REALIZED

Is it hard to believe that Chrysler Imperial "80" has so improved upon all previous practice? Well, it was hard to believe at first of the Chrysler "70"—but all the world knows it now. Chrysler engineers—and Walter P. Chrysler himself—have been in the thick of things since this business began. He, behind the scenes, manufacturing thousands, tens of thousands, hundreds of thousands of cars and dreaming the dream which has come so gloriously true. There are no older cars in the industry in hard, practical experience, untiring research and broad, ambitious vision than the cars which bear the name of Chrysler. If you find yourself tingling with enthusiasm over the new, fresh and vigorous qualities of the Imperial "80"—if you find it hard to understand how this advance was brought about—remember, first, the Chrysler "70" and then the life-time of labor that has gone into the building of the name of Chrysler.

SPANIARDS BUCK FRENCH AIM FOR PEACE IN RIFF

Demand Armies Deal Final Blow to Crush Krim.

BY HENRY WALES.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
[Copyright: 1926: By The Chicago Tribune.]
PARIS, March 21.—Spain's desire to strike a crushing blow at Abd-el Krim, the Riffian leader, in the belief that he is on his last legs, is evidenced by two important declarations which have been widely commented upon in Paris.

Gen. Primo de Rivera said in Madrid that he had every reason to believe that a few more sacrifices would bring peace, while a settlement now would amount only to a sort of truce. Gen. Sanjurjo, the Spanish commander, who has been conferring with the French high commission in order to coordinate operations, says he believes the Riffian leader is playing his last cards and will be unable to withstand the united French and Spanish attack soon forthcoming.

Certain French quarters believe this Spanish optimism is due to the fear that the French are reaching a frame of mind to agree to an early settlement without definitely crushing Abd-el Krim.

Riffs Ask Peace Terms.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
RABAT, French Morocco, March 21.—Peace moves are being carried on actively between the Riffian rebel chieftain, Abd-el Krim, and the representatives of France and Spain, it is learned authoritatively here.

Several emissaries of the Riffian chief have penetrated the French lines, expressing Abd-el Krim's desire to learn the exact nature of the Franco-Spanish agreement on peace terms, which he says he has never received. These emissaries conferred with qualified representatives of the French, carrying back to Krim the French conditions.

Spaniards Hold Out.
The French here are convinced that Krim wants to cease warfare. Although the Spaniards are holding out, insisting that there is a chance of crushing the Riffians within the next few months, the French are not inclined to dismiss the opportunity for a settlement without careful consideration.

New emissaries are expected from the Riff hills any day with word of Krim's reaction to the French terms.

Withdraw Drunk Driving
Charge Against Skelton

Robert Skelton, world's champion breast stroke swimmer and a member of the American Olympic team in 1924, was arrested late on Saturday in Evanston on a charge of disorderly conduct. An original charge of driving while intoxicated was withdrawn. Yesterday Skelton appeared before Magistrate Charles G. Franklin and agreed to a fine of $50 to avoid going to court today. Skelton, a Northwestern university graduate, living at 511 Park avenue, Wilmette, is a bond salesman.

BRITISH ENVOY GREET'S SPRING ON HORSEBACK

Yesterday's sunshine and comparatively mild temperature added much to the enjoyment of Sir Esme Howard, British ambassador, on his Sunday horseback ride with his host, former Judge Clarence N. Goodwin, down the lake shore to Fort Sheridan. They were accompanied by an escort of officers from the fort.

After an equestrian inspection of the grounds and buildings at the post the party was ushered into the drill hall, where soldiers presented a program of drills. Lady Isabella Howard, the ambassador's wife, and Mrs. Goodwin, who had motored down from Lake Forest, joined the party there.

Earlier in the day the ambassador, with British Consul General and Mrs. Richards, attended a high mass at St. Mary of the Lake seminary at Mundelein, Ill., afterwards making a tour of the buildings with Mgr. Wolfe, director.

Sir Esme will leave this morning for Springfield, where he will make an address tonight. He will return to Chicago tomorrow, and will leave for Washington in the afternoon.

KRESGES SETTLE DIFFERENCES ON SPIRITUAL PLANE

Decide to Live Together Again; Mum on Details.

New York, March 21.—[Special.]—

The marital and financial tangle of Sebastian S. Kresge and Doris Mercer Kresge was adjusted today "on a spiritual plane," and on a basis "making Mrs. Kresge independent for the rest of her life," according to a signed statement issued by the 5, 10, and 25 cent store magnate.

Kresge and his young wife have agreed to effect a reconciliation and live together again, it was stated.

Kresge, Anti-Saloon league "angel" and ardent reformer, expressed chagrin at the publication of excerpts from a letter written to him by the Rev. Clyde Mercer, Dayton, Pa., Methodist minister and brother of Mrs. Kresge, in which it was hinted she had it in her power to ruin Kresge's reputation unless he made a settlement on her, the clergyman suggesting $10,000,000 as a fair sum.

The statement was signed in the home of Mrs. Kresge's counsel, Nathan Burkan, following a conference among Burkan, Kresge, and Max D. Steuer, attorney for Kresge. Mrs. Kresge was not present, Burkan said.

Kresge's formal statement did not disclose the details of the "spiritual plane" upon which his wife, 27 years his junior, settled her suit for 2,500 shares of S. S. Kresge stock worth $2,500,000, she alleged were due her under a prenuptial agreement.

After stating that Kresge felt impelled to say something because of erroneous, misleading and "false" newspaper accounts of his family troubles, it is explained that "the undersigned, in justice to Mrs. Kresge and to vindicate and exonerate her," issued the statement.

TIM HEALY HAS FAIR WORDS FOR NORTH IRELAND

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

DUBLIN, March 21.—Governor General Timothy Healy, speaking at a dinner of the Royal College of Surgeons of Ireland last night made his first public reference to the recent boundary settlement between the Irish Free State and northern Ireland.

The northern Nationalists said they "had been betrayed." Mr. Healy deprecated the use of that harsh word. The settlement was due entirely to the simple kindness and patriotism of Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin, who no doubt thought that it should come to a free state, but against that they could put the good will and friendliness of the northern government, which already had amnestied many political prisoners.

HUSBAND HUNTED FOR SLAYING OF ESTRANGED WIFE

A search was under way yesterday for Paul Paliferro, 26 years old, a painter who on Saturday night shot and killed his estranged wife, Josephine, 19, when she asked him for money. Meanwhile physicians kept watch at the bedside of Mrs. Rose Albanese, 44 years old, who was struck by a stray bullet from Paliferro's gun. The shooting occurred near her home at 802 South California avenue.

According to the story told Marquette police by Dominic Albanese, husband of Mrs. Albanese, the Paliferros, married eighteen months ago, recently separated when Mrs. Paliferro admitted she no longer cared for Paliferro. Paliferro became angered, Albanese said, when his wife appeared and asked for money.

THE DRYS GIVE AN INCH.

The drys on the senate judiciary committee have receded from the decision to quench public hearings on the modification bills and will take off the silence for twelve days. It is an arbitrary and grudging concession to a growing demand that resolutions proposing the repeal or modification of the eighteenth amendment and bills proposing the modification of the Volstead act shall have the same treatment as other bills in which the public is concerned.

The position first taken by the committee was that there was nothing to discuss in prohibition, as if both the amendment and the statute carried prohibitions against repeal or amendment. Volstead has put many strange things in American law, but this would have been the strangest. It is the conviction of prohibitionists that the last word has been said on the subject, no matter what consequences flow from Volstead, but the senators under dry control found that they lacked the audacity to stick to that point of view.

They will go as far as they can to limit the character and time of the discussion. It is proposed that Senator Edwards' bill for the repeal of the amendment shall not be considered, but that the discussion and hearing will be allowed to Senator Bruce's resolution to legalize, by constitutional amendment, the government manufacture and sale of intoxicating beverages in communities which under local option vote to have them. Discussion of Senator Edwards' bill for amendment of the Volstead act to allow the manufacture and sale of 2.75 per cent. beer also will be permitted in the twenty day allowance of time.

That is dictatorial enough in its limitations, but the drys seem to think they must grant at least so much in recognition of the apparent opinion of the country.

The drys have succeeded in avoiding an investigation of the Anti-Saloon league for which Congressmen [written] introduced a resolution. They counteracted with a proposal for an investigation of the Association Opposed to Prohibition, which would be welcomed. In the hearing which has been forced from the judiciary committee of the senate it should be possible to examine the Anti-Saloon league. It is necessary to do so if the facts relating to prohibition are to be explored. The case against prohibition rests on the condition of the country, and the Anti-Saloon league has had a prime part in producing this condition.

Prohibitionists and bootleggers have a common interest in continuing the condition. The public knows a great deal more about the bootleggers than it does about the league. It knows more of the source of bootleg revenue and more about the expenditure of it than it knows about the revenue and expenditures of the league.

It knows that bootleg money goes to prevent enforcement. It knows that bootleg cash is causing demoralization in public service. It does not know what league money is doing. A study of prohibition cannot be made without an investigation of the league. The senators opposed to the league, to Volstead, and to the continuance of conditions socially and politically corrupting may force at opportunity even in their limited hearing to bring the league, its methods, and its works out into the open.

It is dry doctrine that the league and its laws are beyond reach, but that conception of superpower is changing.

PROFESSIONAL TENNIS.

Bill Tilden of Philadelphia has gone down to Florida to work at his tennis. Vincent Richards and some of the others are already on the job. Mrs. Jewess, Miss Ryan, and their associates are punching the clock in the indoor tournament at Brookline. Tennis, it will be observed, is no trade for the miser. You work at it.

The play tennis as well as these young people play it argues anything but a childish youth. It argues a youth devoted with passionate single-mindedness to tennis and little else. Mere amusement will never, of itself, make a champion. It takes skill. If the weather will not permit outdoor practice in the north, the tennis workers labor indoors or travel south. Some hotel or club can always be found to give a ranking player bed and board in return for the advertising.

Tennis requires concentration on and off. Tilden tried to be an actor for a few weeks. The reviewer intimated that nothing in his acting suggested that he had spent much time on his line, but even that departure from his tennis routine took enough out of his game to let a frog trim him, a thing that had never happened before.

Amateurs like Tilden are forbidden to take cash for their exhibitions. The idea is not that cash in itself is wicked. Amateur athletes do not take wages of poverty. Half of the champions, indeed, spend a large part of their spare time figuring out ways to make money out of their tennis without becoming professional in the process.

There can be only two sound reasons for drawing a line between the amateur and the professional. It may be argued that the man who takes money for playing is (a) no gentleman and (b) too practiced and skillful a player—that is, that he is temperamentally not good enough and professionally too good—for nice boys and girls to play with. Those who draw the amateur-professional distinction must believe, then, that Eddie Collins would be more the gentleman if he were an amateur and that Bill Tilden and Suzanne would be better players if they were professionals. The absurdity has merely to be stated to refute itself.

Amateur tennis does not exist in fact, whatever the theory may be. There are only two kinds of tennis players—good and bad. The good ones, if they want to stay good, devote most of their lives to the game. To them it's a game in exactly the sense that the clock and suit game is a game.

THE LEAGUE DECIDES TO INTERPRET OUR RESERVATIONS.

The council of the league of nations, which of late has not been in a mood to agree on anything, found itself in full accord upon the American reservations concerning the world court. The reservations, it was observed, placed a limitation upon the powers of the council. That would never do. The council, accordingly, decided to call a convention of the nations belonging to the court. The United States is to send representatives to the convention to explain what our reservations mean.

What will happen then is not entirely clear. The reservation that is causing most of the trouble is the one by which our government affirms its right to forbid the court to give an advisory opinion in any dispute in which we think we are concerned. The council properly sees this reservation as a limitation upon its right to call for advisory opinions upon any question.

"It is clear," the dispatches from Geneva say, "that neither the league council nor the world court intends to yield on the question of advisory opinions."

Nothing remains now of the action so zealously put forward by the pro-couriers, that the court was independent of the league. The two are related, and intimately, the court being subservient to the league. We agreed to join the court on certain conditions. We have notified the forty-eight nations belonging to the court of our action and of our reservations. Each of the forty-eight is at liberty to accept or reject our reservations or to inquire further of us what our reservations mean. Instead, the league takes that task upon itself. The court is not in reality the agency controlled jointly by the forty-eight nations belonging to it. That was propaganda. It is the instrument of the league of nations devised for the purpose of giving an air of legality to the decisions of the league.

With this latest revelation of the subservience of the court to the purely political council as a warning, our government will, if it is wise, hesitate long before submitting any dispute to the court, whether our reservations are accepted or not.

The decision of the council must be a source of considerable embarrassment to the administration at Washington. The administration is in the midst of negotiations with forty-eight separate nations regarding our adherence to the court. The league has chosen to interrupt the negotiations before they are more than started. We are informed by a league which we refused to join that our diplomatic method is incorrect, or, in other words, that we do not know how to manage our own foreign relations; and if we send a representative to explain our reservations to the league, the administration must tacitly admit the truth of the indictment. If we do not send a representative we may have to accept any interpretation of our reservations which the league chooses to put upon them in our absence.

That is not our only dilemma. If our government sends a representative with strong pro-court leanings we shall probably find our reservations nullified by his explanations and if we send any one else we may be excluded from the court because of his explanations. Most Americans could endure exclusion with equanimity, but the administration would be placed in the undignified position of having conducted the long and unpopular fight on behalf of the court for nothing.

This much is clear: whatever obligation rested upon the administration as a result of the pledge in the Republican platform to join the league has now been discharged. Our debt to Bok has been paid in full. The party in power has done all it need have done and more besides to get us into the court. If the league doesn't want us on our terms, we can continue to get along outside the court. Any interpreting of our reservations by a conference at Geneva will be interpreted downward at our expense and to the advantage of the league.

AGRICULTURE NEEDS A MEGAPHONE.

It is very well for farmers' and farm product dealers' associations to meet in Iowa, or Illinois, or Kansas and pass resolutions asking for relief. It is a different matter to get those resolutions heard in Washington. The meetings disband, the delegates scatter; the united chorus breaks up into scattered individual voices. And Washington is notoriously deaf to anything except a loud, many-voiced noise.

The financial interests of the country have their center in Wall street. When Wall street talks, it talks with the emphasis of most of the country's money and credit behind it, and it gets a hearing. The farm interests of the United States should follow the example. Plans for an agricultural temple in Chicago have been under way for some time, the aim being just such a union at one focal point of the nation's agricultural forces.

It is to the interest of all farmers, farmers' organizations, and associations dealing with farm products to further this agricultural temple plan—or, if not this, some other project with the same goal in view. Anything for a permanent unification of effort and influence in order that the farm interests can speak concertedly, loudly, and so be heard.

THE GREATEST NEED OF THE WEST.

Coming into the west, Herbert Hoover makes a plea for the development which means most to this section. He emphasizes anew in his Chicago speech the benefits which will come to industry and agriculture through the creation of a Mississippi Valley waterways system and opening up a route to the sea via the great lakes.

The importance of this improvement cannot be minimized except to the detriment of the middle west. Whatever reductions may be secured in railway freight rates through demands made by the grain growers would be inconsequential when compared to the benefit which would accrue through ability to move their product by water.

This development means much to the cities, for it will facilitate their industrial growth. Never before in the history of mankind has it been possible for a great population to live 1,500 miles from the sea. The railroad made it possible for the west to grow and prosper, but with the opening of the Panama canal, the rough equality in freight rates which put us on a competitive parity with the coast sections was overturned.

There is only one way to overcome this disadvantage and that is to use the water routes to the sea. In supporting this development President Coolidge and Secretary Hoover are doing more for the middle west than all the professional friends of the farmer with their paternalistic schemes to aid agriculture.

DISEASES OF MARCH.

THE worst of the winter is behind us. The weather reports show that in most places February is the coldest month of the year. It is also the wettest, when snow is counted in terms of moisture. It is also the healthiest. Most people think the doubtful honor of being the unhealthiest month belongs to March, but the figures do not show that belief to be true; that is, after the figures are corrected.

The total number of deaths and of illness reported in March exceed those reported for February, but we must not lose sight of the brevity of February. There are 31 days in the one month and 28 in the other. The difference, three days, is nearly one-tenth of a month. If the March totals be reduced nearly 10 per cent, to put them on a February basis, it is found that the record of the latter month is the worse of the two.

And why should it not be so? In March the days are longer by nearly two hours. Two hours of additional sunlight will kill a multitude of bacteria. The cold is not so intense and people are more in the open. The spring housing is beginning to show some evidence of life. Even the little there is of upholding leaves its imprint on the sickness rate.

The great disorder of the winter-spring period is pneumonia. The winter peak of pneumonia occurs in February. In March there is plenty of it, but the worst is over. There are bad pneumonia months. In 1921, April was the worst pneumonia month in the year. But in April, 1921, there was a great world wave of influenza, just as there was in October, 1918, and such abnormal occurrences have no bearing on the main question.

This is enough to say in the way of proving the pathway with roses of cheer. Now let's scatter a statement from the label that simply "poison." To the layman "poison" means something which must not be put into the mouth.

And so many people are using iodine for the reason that it is a disinfectant, and they are about the limitations of its use would be very helpful.

March is the month of meningitis. The paper this morning is a statement from the head of meningitis in a school. A cold, wet spring might make April a meningitis month.

Letters to this department must be signed with names and addresses of writers.

MARRIED TOO YOUNG.
Chicago, March 16.—(To the Legal Friend of the People.)—I do not know how many of the people of Illinois are married in the state of Illinois?

I was married in Iowa in September, 1924, at the age of seventeen, without the knowledge of my parents. My husband and I separated three months later. We are both in favor of a divorce, although he refuses to get it and I do not have the money to do so.

Could my parents, who do not yet know of the marriage and who would disapprove of it, legally annul the marriage after this length of time?

L. D. H.
1. At sixteen, for the purpose of marriage.
2. Possibly, but what advantage would there be over a divorce?

TRIBUTE LAW DEPARTMENT.
CANNOT PAY THE RENT.
Chicago, March 15.—(To the Legal Friend of the People.)—I moved in on my last September and have been there for one year. We simply cannot continue to pay the rent. The landlord will not release us before May 1. If we move out April 1 with rent paid to date, what could our landlord do? Could we be forced to pay for the month of May? Presumably the lease is so worded as to authorize the landlord to confess judgment for the rent due. This means that upon your personal properties in excess of exemptions or can garnish your wages.

TRIBUTE LAW DEPARTMENT.
STUDENTS ASK FOR SIDEWALK.
Chicago, March 14.—(Friend of the People.)—I am a student at Hyde Park High school, which is located at Sixty-second and Stony Island avenues. We students have to take a bus to school which stops in the park and we have to walk from the drive through thick mud and water to get to school. This means we have wet shoes and stockings to sit around in during school hours. Could this be remedied?

A walk has been laid out in the park adjacent to the Hyde Park High school and leading directly to the stopping point of the motor buses. Construction of the walk will begin as soon as the frost is out of the ground.

GEORGE T. DONOHUE, Acting Gen. Supt., South Park Commissioners.

Do you remember how that Grecian boy looks down from his dark canvas? How his eyes flash on yours with innocent surprise? Fasten on yours with innocent surprise! So we remember that young son of joy who called life with laughter; we employ short happiness to make us strong; devise new answers to the old incredulous cries; But he found life a most amusing toy.

Now we recall the sight of his sweet youth, running his short race with a passionate ease, and makes his death a sorry truth; But he was beautiful, and, for the rest, he passed like the dawn wind on rosy seas. As birds pass, swiftly, homing to the West.

GAMBLING IN SCHOOL STORES.
Chicago, March 17.—We have laws and a ready police force to prevent open gambling among adults, and yet children of school age are taught games in many school supply and candy stores.

I have on several occasions recently found that one of my children, a boy of 12, has spent 50 cents or more trying to win a 10 cent box of candy in some neighboring store; and while I have talked to him and have even punished him, it seems heartless to punish a child for doing something in which he is encouraged by older persons.

There are three stores near the Blaine public school and four in the vicinity of the Hamilton school where these candy lotteries are sold.

Cannot the city abate this petty gambling, or must parents spend their time and money performing duties which their taxes ought to pay for? HOMER ELLIS.

THE CANAL ROUTE.
Chicago, March 15.—It seems that the opponents of the St. Lawrence deep waterway project stop at nothing. The all-American route from New York to the great lakes which these men are advocating is nothing more nor less than an attempt to induce a sentimentalism of patriotism into the matter, thus befogging and confusing the real issue. The supporters of the New York route claim that it would be easier to defend in case of war, and that the Canadian route would be dangerous because of its location on alien territory. Canada has been at peace with our country for more than 100 years. There isn't even the remotest possibility of war with the friendly country to the north of us. The real animus is jealousy and fear that a large share of commerce that naturally comes to the New York harbor would be lost. This is a needless fear. Trade would be stimulated and New York would be greatly benefited.

CHARLES SIMON.

LAWMAKING PESTILENCE.
Chicago, March 15.—I have traveled over the United States for the last twelve years on business and from what I can see and hear the editorial "Lawmaking Pestilence" is so good and so full of sound thinking and good sense that it is a pity every one in the United States who can read cannot be put in touch with this article and read it. The same thing applies to the editorial on the Costello case proceedings. W. H. KORMAN.

NO GO, LIGHT WINES AND BEERS.
Glen Ellyn, Ill., March 14.—I am an old man, a resident of Chicago for 30 years. Your editorials, especially those dealing with the liquor situation, have generally appealed to me, yet I am not satisfied that the solution of the infernal problem so generally advocated is, or will prove to be, the correct one. I refer to the proposed amendment allowing the manufacture and sale of light wines and 2.75 per cent beer.

With the privilege of being allowed the use of such mild beverages, would the present intolerable situation be much bettered? It seems to me that, considering the widespread use of the stronger liquors, the latter will be demanded. How will the drinkers be made to be satisfied with mild wine and thin beer? Don't you think, to be successful, the modification in the law should allow beverages of a greater alcoholic content, such as the wine and beer we had before prohibition? No, sir, the people will never be satisfied to change from what they are used to now to a 2.75 beer—especially the ones that can afford real liquor. They will go right on getting it in the same old way. If the law is to be changed, for heaven's sake do not be satisfied with a makeshift! C. F. I.

DUNNE KEYNOTES FOR HIS ALLIES IN COUNTY FIGHT

Demands Dry Law Letup; Hits Bipartisan Rule.

Edward F. Dunne, successively judge of the Circuit court, mayor of Chicago, and governor of Illinois, unveiled the banner of the Dunne-Lewis-O'Connell-Harrison democracy and opened its county campaign in the ward yesterday.

His keynote speech included a demand for modification of the Volstead act, which he termed a "tyrannical law," an attack on bipartisan control of public offices, advocacy of a public owned transportation system, direct primaries for the nomination of judges, a referendum on all bond issues, consolidation of the taxing bodies in Cook county, a senatorial reapportionment, and a warning to voters "not to be misled by smoke screen national issues in the county campaign."

Most of Candidates There.
The opening of the campaign was conducted under the management of William L. O'Connell, chairman of the organization, and State Representative Thomas J. O'Grady, its leader in the assembly district. Most of the organization's candidates were present.

Mr. Dunne boosted the candidates of County Judge Jarecki and Probate Judge Horner, who are on the slate of the regular Democratic organization, but he lambasted Democratic and Republican bosses, blaming them for "high taxes and corrupt elections." "I see to it that your candidate for congress is pledged to the modification of the Volstead act and that your candidates for the legislature are, like Representative O'Grady, pledged to the repeal of the drastic search and seizure prohibition act now on the statute books of this state," Mr. Dunne said.

Says Dry Law Can't Enforce Law.

"The Volstead law was rushed through congress by well meaning but impractical and unreasonable zealots during the hysteria of the world war. It has not been successfully enforced, although the main advocates have been placed in official positions to enforce it, and have been given powers heretofore unheard of and appropriations almost without limit."

"The law cannot be successfully enforced. It is a tyrannical legislative lie. The man who drinks wine or beer containing 2 to 3 per cent alcohol does not become intoxicated and should not be branded and punished as a criminal in this or any other country. The founder of the Christian religion drank wine in moderation and the first miracle that He performed was to change water into wine to brighten up a wedding feast. If He were here today, He would be indicted and tried by the district attorney at the behest of so-called Christian zealots advocating the rigid enforcement of this unjust and tyrannical law."

POLITICAL NOTES

All voters who were not registered in the last general registration in October, 1924, or who have since changed address must register tomorrow to be eligible to vote in the April 13 primaries.

One of the hottest senatorial battles in the state is going on in the 13th (Calumet) district, where former Speaker G. A. Dahlberg is making a fight for the Republican senate nomination against both the organization candidates, Clarence S. Piggott (Crows-Barrett) and Harry W. Starr (Densen-Lundin).

Smith headquarters declared yesterday that an endorsement of Senator McKinley by disabled veterans at the Speedway hospital is in reality the handiwork of Andrew Russell, McKinley manager, and that the few signatures to the document attacking Daddy Schick, former American Legion commander, were obtained surreptitiously in the psychopathic and T. B. wards.

State Representative Sidney Lyon, candidate for a sixth term in the Fifth (Hyde Park) district, announces that he has been endorsed by all the regular Republican organizations of the district.

Arthur A. Huebner, mayor of Brookfield and Republican candidate for state senator in the Seventh district against Senator Fred B. Ross, is one of the front line battlers for the Crowe-Barrett county ticket in the county towns.

Alm. Francis L. Boutell (48th), Republican candidate for president of the county board, is advocating a $3,000,000 bond issue for better lighting in outlying wards and for elevated loading zones for street cars.

Splitting of Tickets.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

"No one can be a good Christian and disregard politics," said Henry P. Chandler last evening in an appeal before the 7 o'clock meeting of the Sunday Evening club at Orchestra hall to all good citizens to register tomorrow and to vote at the primaries on April 13. Mr. Chandler is chairman of the executive committee of the committee of 200.

"I would rather have a person go to the polls and vote against my candidate, if he did it honestly, than to stay away from the polls," said Mr. Chandler.

Candidates "Straight" Tickets. "The government cannot be better than its average citizenship, and in Chicago and Cook county the officials are even lower in ability and integrity than the average of the people."

"There are men who do excellent work in both parties. There are good and bad candidates now up for consideration in each of the parties. No person in good conscience can vote a straight party ticket. Every citizen

WATER IN MINE BOOM TOWN NOW 2 CENTS A GAL.; NONE FOR BATH

Beatty, Nev., March 21.—(AP)—While the price of water in Leadfield, new mining boom town twenty-two miles west of here, in Death valley, has been reduced from 10 cents to 2 cents a gallon, there is none for bathing purposes.

Freight of various kinds delivered by railroad here is hauled to Leadfield at a cost of $17.50 a ton. Condensed milk (the small can) sells for 20 cents a can; canned peaches cost 60 cents; candles are two for a quarter; bread is 20 cents a loaf, and flour is $3 a half barrel.

Bootleg whisky flows freely, and no apparent attempt is being made to prevent its being sold to whites.

ought to try and find out about the candidates. Our committee and other organizations will help do this, and a careful reading of the daily press will give pointers. The greatest crime of good people is indifference.

Big Stake in Election. "Jesus Christ did not seek to improve the world by running away from it, and good people today cannot improve the government by staying away from the polls. At the last primaries less than 50 per cent of the people voted. Selfish politicians can control votes when citizens interested in having a good city do not cast their ballots."

"Expenditures of $50,000,000 are at stake in the election of the sanitary and county boards."

RAIDERS' ARREST OF ALTERIE PAL ROILS ALDERMAN

Arvey Obtains Smith's
Release on Bond.

When Chief of Detectives William Schoemaker and his deputy, Capt. John Stege, arrested Edward Smith of 2320 Ogden avenue during their Saturday night raids they started something.

Smith, who is said to have acted as pistol carrier for Louis Alterie, gunman pal of the late Dean O'Banion, was picked up in a barber shop at 804 West Roosevelt road, the scene of the killing of Samuels Amstutz, who aspired for a time to the leadership of the alcohol traffic on the west side.

Arvey Demands Smith's Release. Yesterday appeared at the detective bureau Ald. Jacob M. Arvey and Santary Trustee Michael Rosenberg. Why, they demanded, was Mr. Smith in the jail? And why did Chief Schoemaker and Deputy Chief Stege assume that they could throw a law abiding citizen like Smith in and hold him without booking. His immediate release was demanded.

Ald. Arvey was informed that Smith was fined for carrying Alterie's guns to the Federal building, where the latter was making an appearance in court. But he insisted that Smith be released. He called for Schoemaker and Stege and when they couldn't be found he tried Chief Collins' home. He, too, was out, and Ald. Arvey announced that he was going to the mayor.

Captive Freed on $50 Bond. At last Capt. Stege was found. Smith was booked for disorderly conduct and the alderman furnished $50 bond.

Ald. Arvey, still wrathful, asserted that he would start a suit against the detective chiefs today for arresting Smith without sufficient cause.

In the barber shop raid the police found Smith in a chair and an overcoat with two pistols in the pockets hanging near him. He denied owning the weapons, but the detective leaders pointed out that the coat fit him and didn't fit anybody else in the place. Ninety men were seized in the raids, which were directed against thirty places. Sixty of those taken had previous records of arrest. Six were charged with carrying guns and the remainder with disorderly conduct.

DEATH LIST 22 IN EXPLOSION OF BLAST FURNACE

Birmingham, Ala., March 21.—(AP)—The death list resulting from an unexplained explosion of a furnace at the Woodward Coal and Iron company's plant here stood at twenty-two today and in addition four men were reported to be in a serious condition in hospitals. Of the twenty-two men killed, eleven were white and eleven Negroes.

MOTORIST SAVES BOY CLINGING TO ICE IN LAGOON

Driving his automobile across a bridge over a narrow neck of water in Humboldt park yesterday, Walter Smela, 35 years old, 2444 North Campbell avenue, looked out on the lagoon to see a little boy clinging desperately to the edge of ice around a hole into which he had fallen.

Smela plunged into the icy water. A few strokes took him to the boy, whom he grasped with one hand while he broke the ice and swam until he could stand.

At this juncture Park Policeman Charles A. Kinnella passed by on his way home. He stopped and went in to his shoulders, helping both man and boy to the shore.

The boy was Soren Henriksen, 9 years old, son of Werner Henriksen, 1439 North Washtenaw avenue.

SENATE DEBATE OF GOODIN BILL PRE

Opponents Claim
Majority of

Washington, D. C., March 21.—(AP)—Defeat of the bill by the Senate today would give a majority of the Senate to the opponents of the bill, however doubtful a squad, and that if the bill is defeated a narrower margin than the Senate has been recorded in the bill, is understood to be his mind and will end along with him several cratic senators.

How Senators Are... The middle west, Pacific coast states are the bill, the main support comes from the interior of the west.

Debate on the bill tomorrow and probably practically uninterrupted day afternoon at 3 o'clock senate will vote under consent agreement adopted.

Senator Deneen (Rep.) used to deliver a speech. Other senators against it include Rep. (Rep. Wis.) and Conn. Senator Fessenden has been leading the attack will conclude the attack.

Will Speak for... Speeches for the bill by Senators Ashurst, Cameron (Rep., Ariz., Nev.), and Nye (Rep., other senators may speak.

The effect of the bill be to be permanently in transcontinental railway of moving traffic west to Pacific coast and Atlantic seaboard through to the same markets.

The transcontinental recently lost their appeal state commerce committee to reduce rates on from Chicago and other points to Pacific while maintaining intermountain points, the bill is passed, the not appeal to the commerce authority.

SENATE DEFEAT OF GOODING R. R. BILL PREDICTED

Opponents Claim to Have
Majority of 20.

Washington, D. C., March 21.—[Special.]—Defeat of the Gooding long and short haul bill Wednesday in the senate was predicted today by senators leading the fight against it.

Although not admitting defeat, Senator Gooding (Rep., Idaho) indicated there was a possibility the bill might not pass.

Opponents of the bill claim the bill claim to have 58 senators pledged to vote against it, which would give a majority of 20 against it. Some of the senators classified as against the bill, however, are in the doubtful squad, and the probability is that if the bill is defeated it will be by a narrower margin than 20 votes.

Senator Blease (Dem., S. C.), who has been recorded in polls as against the bill, is understood to have changed his mind and will endeavor to carry along with him several other Democratic senators.

How Senators Are Divided.
The middle west, Pacific, and Atlantic coast states are lined up against the bill, the main support for which comes from the inter-mountain region of the west.

Debate on the bill will be resumed tomorrow and probably will continue practically uninterrupted until Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when the senate will vote under a unanimous consent agreement adopted last week.

Senator Deneen (Rep., Ill.) is scheduled to deliver a speech against the bill. Other senators who will speak against it include Senators Lenroot (Rep., Wis.) and McLean (Rep., Conn.). Senator Fees (Rep., O.), who has been leading the fight on the bill, will conclude the attack Wednesday.

Will Speak for Bill.
Speeches for the bill will be made by Senators Ashurst (Dem., Ariz.), Cameron (Rep., Ariz.), Odell (Rep., Nev.), and Nye (Rep., N. D.). Several other senators may speak against the bill.

The effect of the bill, if passed, will be to permanently any reductions in transcontinental rates for the purpose of moving traffic from the middle west to Pacific coast markets in competition with traffic shipped from the Atlantic seaboard through the Panama canal to the same western coast markets.

The transcontinental railroads recently lost their appeal to the interstate commerce commission for authority to reduce rates on 47 commodities from Chicago and other middle western points to Pacific coast markets while maintaining existing rates to inter-mountain points, but if the Gooding bill is passed, the railroads can not appeal to the commission again for such authority.

SKIN TO AID DEAF TO HEAR, THEORY OF N. U. EXPERT

Gault Works on Effects of Vibration.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., March 21.—(Special.)—Twenty years ago Alexander Graham Bell, seeking a means by which the human voice could reach the ears of the deaf, found as a by-product of his experiments on instruments—the telephone—infinitely sensitive hearing people.

Today, using the Bell telephone, principally Dr. Robert H. Gault, professor of psychology at Northwestern University, on leave with the national research council, predicts a means of communicating vibrations of speech to the skin in such a way that the words may be felt—not heard.

May "Feel" Music.

The vibrations, according to Dr. Gault, are felt so distinctly that with practice they may be distinguished and put together into sentences and continued discourse. Ultimately it may be possible for deaf persons to enjoy music by its "feel" and poetry as it is read to their skin if he can continue his experiments, Dr. Gault believes.

"Dr. Gault, in this work," it is said in a statement issued tonight, "is going into a very interesting chapter in psychology—the chapter on sensation; that is not so interesting after all till one begins to realize how extremely sensitive the skin is—or becomes with practice. As a matter of fact, in the history of the animal kingdom, the skin was the original ear, and the ear as we have it now is but a very highly semi-specialized organ of touch.

Aided by Vibrations.

"Dr. Gault, setting out as a psychologist and digging into the sensations of touch, is well on the way toward making the human voice reach the deaf through their skin.

"He has found that the deaf lip reader is enormously helped in the art of interpreting speech if he can simultaneously see a speaker's face and feel his words by applying a finger to an instrument that vibrates with the speaker's voice. This is because many differences among words can be felt while they cannot be seen upon the lips and face of the one who is uttering them. But only so; for the rhythm, emphasis, accent and tempo of speech can be felt but not seen. And rhythm and emphasis and the rest help hearing people to understand. By the same token they will help deaf people to understand.

Requires Special Devices.

"These factors in the psychology of speech and hearing when brought over to the deaf through their sense of touch are making them able to enjoy speech; to enjoy poetry also as it is read to their skin. This has hitherto been a closed book to those who have no hearing. Ultimately they should obtain the same pleasure from silently reading verse that the rest of us have.

"The entire experiment requires special devices that are being developed by the Bell Telephone laboratories, according to Dr. Gault's ideas. There may yet be a time when the deaf will prick up their skin as the rest of us do our ears."

TAILOR DROPS DEAD ON STREET.

Elmer Finds Joy in Sunday Radio Bills

MacLeish Chorus Gives a Sparkling Program.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.
Briefly, and in time order, covering big Sunday radio day—
One couldn't ask for a more appropriate afternoon chorus hour than that furnished by the MacLeish chorus of the First Baptist church, Evanston, W.G.N. 3 to 4. The program and singing combination was like a broad, deep, steady, and sparkling river tone.
Two cantatas, one following the other: The first, WPOC, 3:30 to 4, "Praise and Thanksgiving," sung by the North Park Swedish Mission church choir and soloists. Many enjoyable moments, especially in the choral numbers.
The second, "Hall the Victor," WGN, 4 to 5, by the Trinity M. E. church choir (and soloists) of Beverly Hills, direction of Robert Stronach. A substantial, impressive cantata; well blended choral singing; unusually fine singing by the soloists.

Two orchestra concerts, 4 to 5: First Elmer house symphony players, WJZ; superb and not over familiar classical selections. To Elizabeth Shumora, soprano, falls the honor of having produced the purest and richest voice tones of the day. Cannot this station use more power?
And, the Chicago Athletic club ensemble (orchestra), W-G-N, High class, familiar selections; playing lively, almost brilliant. Ensemble to be heard again next Sunday.

Must stay stress, rather than many words, on the Aeolian instrumental duo's "Spring Time" concert, KTW, 4:30 to 5:30. Program strictly classical. May we not hear more of this duo often hereafter?
The work by the Orle orchestra, WEHI, 5 to 6 and 8 to 10—musically important, instructive, entertaining, to say the least.
The Temple Male quartet, WJAZ, 7, very satisfactory.
Edison Symphony orchestra, KTW, 8:30. Thoroughly good, thoroughly enjoyable, thoroughly worthy of closing any day.

O, yes, Claudia Musio, operatic soprano, and Alexander Brailowsky, one of the world's most brilliant concert pianists, through W-G-N, 8:15. Times not received at this point sufficiently satisfactory for either enjoyable or critical listening.

NAVY DENIES IT INTERFERES IN BROADCASTING

Washington, D. C., March 21.—(AP)—A counter publicity campaign to dispel navy radio stations generally from unjustified charges of interference with broadcast entertainment programs has been inaugurated by direction of Capt. Ridley McLean, chief of navy radio.

Commandants of all stations operating powerful radio sets have been urged to work out plans for "listening in" on the broadcast wave bands and locating interferences of which the radio public has complained.
During the recent international broadcasting week a special board approved by the commandant of the submarine base at New London, Conn., devoted nine nights to eavesdropping on the radio broadcast wave bands and succeeded in tracing all but two of the numerous alleged navy set interferences to other causes.

ADMINISTRATION NOW SURE OF O. K. ON ITALIAN DEBT

Washington, D. C., March 21.—(Special.)—Complete confidence that the senate will approve the Italian debt settlement, on which debate commences this week, is now felt by administration leaders.

On the basis of the latest poll, the administration is convinced that not more than ten Republicans will vote against the bill. To offset the loss of the votes at least 12 Democrats will vote in the affirmative. The vote with this lineup would be 58 to 38.

Earlier polls showed as many as 18 or 19 Republicans against the Italian settlement and fewer than 12 Democrats for it.

FASCIST'S PLOT FOR DICTATOR IN GERMANY BARED

Forged Francs Seized by Munich Police.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
BERLIN, March 21.—The Fascist of Munich, Bavaria, in order to procure money for a proposed upheaval in Germany, prepared an issue of forged franc notes, according to Munich police. Munich police declare the plot was uncovered and the forged notes confiscated before they could be circulated.

Democratic circles see in the police statement proof that the German Fascists are still actively pushing their plans to restore the monarchy or set up a dictator. They are recruiting new confederates from the right wing nationalists, who are dissatisfied with the party's passive opposition to the government, and who oppose fulfillment of the Dawes plan.

Backed by Hugenberg Press.
The Fascists are being supported by Dr. Alfred Hugenberg, the "Lord Northcliffe" of Germany, who controls a majority of nationalistic papers. He favors the establishment of a dictatorship in Germany, similar to Premier Mussolini's in Italy.

Dr. Hugenberg failed, however, in his efforts to dictate to the masses of Germany in the preparatory referendum for the expropriation of the property of German princes, which ended this week.

Fought Against Referendum.
The Hugenberg press and allied papers denounced the referendum as plain robbery. Nevertheless, the referendum obtained three times more votes than were needed to place the law before the reichstag.

This, however, has not prevented Dr. Hugenberg, who is a member of the reichstag, from aspiring to the leadership of the 118 Nationalist deputies, whom he hopes to sway into the Fascist current. Political circles are confident that a majority of German Nationalists will refuse an alliance with the Ludendorff Fascists.

ASKS DELAY IN JOHNSON-SCHALL ELECTION CASE

Minneapolis, Minn., March 21.—(AP)—Asserting that he had obtained evidence that one of his witnesses had been kidnaped to prevent his appearance before the senate sub-elections committee, Donald Hughes, counsel for Magnus Johnson, who seeks to unseat Senator Thomas D. Schall of Minnesota, tonight telegraphed Senator Charles Deneen in Washington asking that final decision in the Schall case, scheduled for tomorrow, be delayed.

The witness, Hughes said, was Gale Plagman of Minneapolis, who was sought in vain by Johnson's attorneys.

Expect Bratiano to Quit as Roumanian Premier Soon

BUCHAREST, Roumania, March 21.—(U. N. J.)—King Ferdinand will receive Premier Bratiano in audience Thursday and it is considered likely that the resignation of the premier and his cabinet will then be offered. It is believed that a coalition government will go into power in Roumania as a result of the forthcoming elections.

Your Telephone Voice

The voice of the professional announcer is heard more clearly over the radio than the voice of the amateur. The professional speaks plainly and "focuses his voice" correctly. The amateur, if he would take equal pains, could do it just as well.

The same thing applies to the regular telephone in your home or office. It is easy for anyone to use it correctly and be heard plainly.

To insure that the person at the other end of the line will understand you clearly, talk directly "into" the telephone, with lips close to but not quite touching the mouthpiece. Talk in a moderate tone, not too rapidly.

U. S. STEEL'S 1925 GROSS EARNINGS EXCEED BILLION

BY O. A. MATHER.

For two years and three months, the United States Steel corporation did the largest business in its history last year. Its earnings also ran high, but because of competition and lower prices for steel, the corporation's earnings were not as high as in previous years. All told, however, it was a satisfactory year and better than 1924. The total business of the corporation for 1925 was $1,408,000,000. This was an increase of only 10% over 1924, but in 1924 and 1925, the corporation's earnings were $1,408,000,000. Plant operations averaged 74.4 per cent of capacity, compared with 73.4 per cent in 1924. The average daily wage was $5.88, compared with $5.75 in 1924. The corporation employed 284,773 employees and $5.88 a day in 1925.

Cities Cite in Prices.

"During the second quarter of the year there was a decided slackening in the demand for products with a considerable reduction in prices obtainable for several classes of the principal commodities," Chairman E. H. Gary says in the annual report. "As a result, while a substantial increase in volume of business was attained for the year compared with 1924, measured by aggregate tonnage and value, yet because of sharp competition the average prices received per unit were less."

"The recession in demand continued throughout the year, when a substantial improvement developed, which has continued to the present date. On Feb. 25 the average of unfilled orders was 4,616, 123 tons. Bookings during January and February, 1926, were equal to nearly 80 per cent of capacity, while shipments were at approximately 90 per cent."

$120,000,000 for upkeep.

The income account for 1925 shows $120,000,000 charged to ordinary repairs and maintenance, compared with $122,000,000 in 1924; while depreciation and replacement reserves and sinking funds on bonds were $55,086,678, compared with $48,000,000 in 1924. Despite last year's increase of more than $5,000,000 in charge-offs, net income was $30,602,653, equivalent after preferred dividends to $12.86 a share on the 1925, 502,500 common stock. After paying 1 per cent in common dividends and appropriating $25,000,000 for additions and improvements, there was surplus of $4,601,601, bringing total surplus to $21,863,100.

Net income for 1924 was $35,067,191, equivalent to $11.77 a share on the common stock. After paying 7 per cent on the common stock and appropriating $20,000,000 for additions and improvements, the year's surplus was $4,666,539.

Summer Residents of Lake Forest Peak Early for Lodgings

It would have been a summer home in Lake Forest, which, socially speaking, is the only place to reside during the hot months, must needs be a peak himself for a lodging place these many months before the trees put forth their green and the blossoms their perfume.

Present plans indicate an interesting summer colony, with young folks and sociability enlivened. The young Clarence Mitchell (Marjorie King, that was) and their new bairn have spoken for Mrs. Henry W. Hoyt's comparatively modest white house at 220 Church road. The John F. L. Curtiss will be occupying Mrs. Clifford W. Barnes' capacious house and grounds after June 1. And it doesn't take much conjecturing to know that, with that sprightly young daughter of theirs, Dorothy, there will be the lots of gaiety in that house. It faces east on a tree-lined road and is opposite the Lake Forest college campus.

Mrs. Francis Beldier, with her two popular young folk, Elizabeth and Francis, are to be housed in the Ambrose Cramer place, down on the bluff between the John W. Farwell and the Albert M. Day estates.

Marvin Pool of 512 Barry avenue, who lately took unto himself a bride, Mrs. Bernice Pelce of Port Orange, Fla., has made arrangements to have Mrs. Russell Hill's estate on Deerpath East, near the lake and opposite the Franklin P. Smith estate. The Pools do not plan to be in Chicago before May.

The Charles S. Frost house, which, with the Stanley Keith and Alfred Oranger residences, is on the Marvin Tugthill place, is to have Mr. and Mrs. David J. Malloy as its occupants.

Mrs. John Hamilton has leased her house, that stands on the lake road between the D. Mark Cummings domicile and the Donald R. McLennan's land, to the Wallace Winters.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Patton are to have the Frank Wenban house on Church road, and the Ford Rodman Carters have leased again the trim rectory house on the college campus which they had last summer.

The third of the Historical society's interesting series of lectures by Dr. Arthur G. Terry of Northwestern university, on "The Colonization of America" will be given this evening. Dr. Terry will discuss New Spain, conquistadores and encomenderos, and the last of the Lenton lectures being given by the auspices of the Chicago Historical society.

The afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Edward I. Cudahy, The Rev. Frederick Siedenbergh, S. J., is to speak on the much discussed subject "Evolution and Christianity."

Helen Reid, the Joseph P. Reid's attractive daughter who has been studying piano assiduously of late, is to play.

Mrs. Edward A. Leight of 2414 Lake view avenue will give a tea this afternoon for her corps of lieutenants for the Passavant hospital drive. She is organizing her group of workers so that the work may continue after her departure on April 5 to spend six months in Europe.

The Junior Friends of Art will have their annual spring meeting and style show tomorrow afternoon at the crystal ballroom of the Blackstone. The arts include Miss Helen Hefritz, Mme. Eddy, Miss Ruth Ray, Paul Mallory, and Miss Gladys Swartout.

Mrs. George Shotton of St. Louis is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Herman J. Pettigill, at the residence of Mrs. Russell Lord in Lake Forest. Mrs. Pettigill is in charge of the two little Lord daughters, Betty and Kathleen, while their mother is in Europe.

Mrs. George D. McLaughlin of 1315 Erie street is visiting her brother, Brig. Gen. Martin D. Hardin, in St. Augustine, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cramer and their daughter, Catherine, are expected back on Wednesday from a cruise of the West Indies.

Mrs. John W. O'Leary of 4381 Drexel boulevard and her two daughters, Miss Alice and Miss Lillian O'Leary, have sailed for a two months' sojourn in France, Belgium, Italy, Switzerland, England, and Scotland. Miss Alice has decided on June 17 for her marriage to Malcolm Ross Bryan of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Alwyn Bryan of Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Macdowell of the Drake gave a dinner for 22 Saturday evening.

Live Life Soberly and You're Apt to Live It All Alone!

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"I'm not one bit popular with men," writes Unhappy. "I'm not like other girls who write you, because I do know what's wrong, but I can't remedy it myself. I'm not a bit in my man's power. 'By gosh' I don't mean I want to be sporty. Light hearted, rather. How can you get that when you are and look like I do?"

Realizing men do not fall for the too serious kind ought to help a nice young girl to try another role, don't you think? It is true that there is a magnet like a light heart. I don't particularly care to spend an hour with one who takes life too hard. Neither do you, Unhappy. And certainly men don't.

It's more fun watching a butterfly than a laborious ant. You respect the ant for its industry and all that, but it's more exciting to try to catch the butterfly. I won't say that's the male psychology—but it does appear to run somewhat along that line. In the pre-marriage period, anyway. And if I were a man I'd seek the cheery ones every time, too.

What's the use of taking life so seriously anyway? You can't change it much. Births, marriages and deaths go on just the same whether you look at it through horn rimmed specs or through a pair of myopic eyes. Whether you or I think it's going to the bowwows isn't going to make one continental bit of difference a hundred years hence.

In the meantime, if we decide it isn't worth worrying about, we are going to have a lot more friends in both sexes. And that in itself will make us lighter hearted.

I don't know exactly what rules to lay down for you so you will acquire this gaiety suddenly. Perhaps you can't right away. But I think a gay new hat would help. Get a frivolous dress when you are out shopping. Go down and have your hair done over a new way. Bob it if you feel that would lighten your spirits. Anyway it is a good idea when you are trying to make a girl over inside to go after the externals at the same time. Then your friends will recognize a change at once.

Learn to dance, to dance extraordinarily well. Be light in your conversation. Be just a little silly, if you please! You have to break down that formidable barrier, so you might as well do it all of a sudden like and surprise folk into asking, "Whatever has come over 'Unhappy'?" She's so much more fun than she used to be."

The Vice President and Mrs. Dawes were the dinner guests last evening at the minister from St. Paul and Mrs. Frank H. Funk of Chicago had a dinner company last evening at Wardman Park hotel where they spend their winters.

Miss Funk's daughter, Florence, and Mrs. Funk, and Mrs. Funk's son, Edward Morris, who are spending the week here from their studies.

Belted Jumper Is the Latest Mode

by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Will the geometry class please assemble and demonstrate that the sum of angles on the above skirt is equal to the total of all style points? This, however, is only one of the tasks ahead of said geometry class. There is a big future for such groups in all the spring attire, for geometry patterns are raging and they stop at no obstacle—gloves, hats, shoes, or sunshades.

Indeed, in this era of fanciful footwear, appliques of contrasting kid in many inlaid angles are one of the first things that take the eye.

There can be no doubt but that the pattern of the above skirt of raspberry red contributes a great deal to this classic sports form. For certainly we've got to do something to make our own jumper look different from that of our neighbor across the street and these angles embroidered in a deeper tone of red seem just the right touch. You will also find them taking part in the little scarf celebration which is a feature of the costume.

You will see that the jumper further proves its position in good society by a little narrow belt of self-fabric above which the garment blouses ever so slightly. These narrow belts are, in fact, a feature of the new generation of jumpers. We may go even further and say the narrow belt has found its way into many different types of clothes, and that even such confined and belted spirits as Poiret and the have at last succumbed to the prevailing idea.

Don't forget the belt!

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Our Food Requirement.

An advertising medical man recently, in broadcasting to advise people how to reduce and be beautiful, said that the food requirement (presumably for women) was 3,600 calories per day. He also mispronounced calories. The accent of that word is on the first three letters, or first syllable. The second syllable has one letter and he made it three, with the vowel long, leaving two letters for the first.

If the ordinary woman eats food yielding 3,600 calories per day she surely will need to reduce before a month goes by, if she can digest that amount and store the excess above her actual requirement.

Mrs. Rose gives as the requirement for a sedentary woman 2,000 calories per day. For an active woman she allows between 2,500 and 3,000 calories per day. In listing the foods and the size of the portions that might be eaten by this active woman she gives a day's ration yielding 2,885 calories, or what is probably safe and sane. Of course, if a woman is not only active but large of frame she can take a larger allowance of food, because she has more air to warm up and longer distances within herself to work for, or through, or over.

We think that the medical adviser with his leaflets on calories to give away should have read more than one book before he got his literature printed. The faults of the one book, or the wrong statements in it he used as a source of information, might have been discovered if he had read only one other, especially if it had been the right one.

Mrs. Rose in her book, "The Feeding of the Family," gives the food requirements in calories for people of all ages and her reckonings are good. It is a misfortune that the word calories in her book was printed with a capital letter, because it was agreed upon by certain reliable scientists that when so spelled it should be taken as the large calorie, something else again.

We speak of the difference of an inch on a man's nose. Comparatively, 600 calories in excess is another such undesirable superfluity—a wasteful and hurtful excess.

THE TRIBUNE COOK BOOK, by Jane Eddington, with menus for thirty meals and with chapters making a brief guide to correct eating, is on sale for 10 cents by mail or at the Public Service Office, 11 South Dearborn street.

FARM AND GARDEN RIDGWAY

If black oyster plant or salify is a new vegetable in your garden, as it is, don't plan to offer it any special privilege. It is a hardy perennial so easily grown that many experienced with it wonder why it does not hold a permanent place on the home gardener's planting list.

Any man who has raised parsnips can grow black oyster plant; the two are grown in about the same way. It must be started early, especially in this section, for it needs about all the growing days there are between the cool late spring and fall. The main reason for getting them started early is to give the plants plenty of time to become established during the cool, misty weather of spring. Once they become well rooted they will pull through the dry weather of July and August.

Roots of salify may be left in the garden for two years or more. Those who have tasted the vegetable at different ages may find it at its best when harvested and used the winter following its first season in the garden. Unlike Irish and sweet potatoes that can be left in the ground because they will freeze and rot, black oyster plant may be dug any time in winter, just as parsnips.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service) Washington, D. C., March 22.—Administration foreign policy was assailed and defended in a lively debate in the senate today. Senator Harrison (Dem., Miss.) who made the keynote address at the last Democratic national convention, and who loses no opportunity to hurl a verbal brick at the Republican administration, was responsible for the oratorical outburst. Senator Harrison is a humorist and satirist, and his attack upon the administration was a lively one. The senator did not, however, deny that Ambassador Houghton had talked to the press men and given them the story forth in the press dispatches. "Up until about 1913 secret diplomacy was in vogue and prevailed in all governments," Senator Harrison said. "It was the kind of which breeds war. In that influence of our government diplomacy was checked. The time was followed through the administration through the hands of Mr. Hughes.

Back to Old Order "The present leadership of the country has gone back to the old ways. A few weeks ago, startled by a warning by a House spokesman against the senate and the house, that they were intended for purposes. This last week even more extraordinary took place. Mr. Houghton met the correspondents last week, with them at length. He said and candidly his views on European conditions. These were broadcast generally to the country and to Europe. Such headlines were used by the newspapers that it is little wonder that they electrify this country and abroad. These statements have been denied by the state department in authority has denied.
